I. INTRODUCTION

Good governance in the era of globalization, provides the best service to the demands of the community. Therefore, it is necessary to have a public service assistance system in the health sector, so that efficient and effective services are realized (Rihardi, 2019).government's implementation has actually experienced difficulties in handling the COVID-19 outbreak which has spread throughout the world. Some regions set Region4 Quarantine or Lockdown options.

There are several regions that have set a lockdown or semi-lockdown option, namely Solo which has a semi-lockdown, Tegal has a full lockdown, Papua has a semi-lockdown, Maluku has a semi-lockdown. The determination of the Lockdown or semi-lockdown carried out by the Regional Government due to the increasing spread of the Covid-19 disease with the increasing significance of cases. Even as of April 3, 2020, positive cases of Covid-19 have reached 1,986 people, previously on April 2, 2020 as many as 1,790 with an increase of 196 cases in one day. (Wadi, 2020).

This is viewed from the circumstances that have influenced it, as stated by Sarjono Soekanto, namely the factors of public service providers, facilities or facilities factors and community factors (Putriyanda, 2016). The obstacles to overcome are still not a hope. In the implementation of the Social Security Administering Body (BPJS), this classification is carried out because of the limited provision of first-level health facilities, especially health center services in the regions (Santoso, 2014).

First-level individual health efforts (UKP TP) the care provided by this first-level health facility includes outpatient care, emergency services, one-day care, home care, and/or inpatient care based on the needs of these health services. Yuliani, 2013). This is also regulated in article 36 regarding dissatisfaction with services.

The method in this study is the result of a literature review, where the focus of this research method is the result of understanding and developing previous literature studies. This research method is based on examining or critically reviewing knowledge, ideas contained in the body of written literature and formulating theoretical and methodological contributions to certain topics.

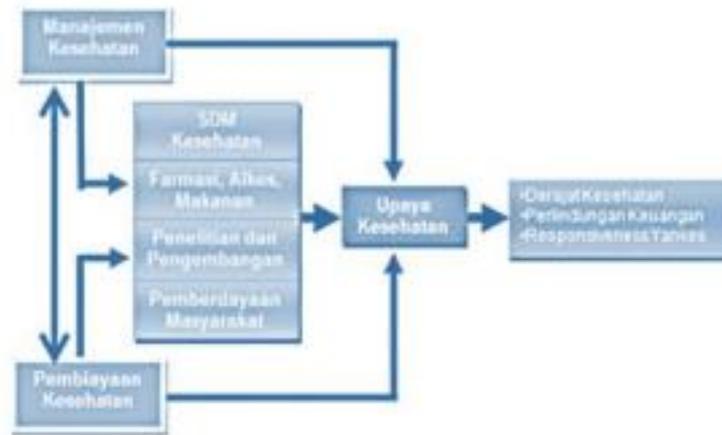

IV. RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS

policy of regional autonomy Law 23 of 2014 in the Health sector the basic wisdom of the word wise means clever, clever, capable, and expert. As for the difference of policies and policies. Policy is related to one's ability while wisdom is related to a decision to allow it about a ban that has been made based on certain reasons. A consensus of the makers decisions with the aim of being one of the conflict resolution efforts towards achievement major in action.

This understanding is closely related to public policy in general. Public policy is the authority of the government, especially in regional government. In society this is a form of a response to complaints against the local government related to ongoing problems. General services and products, especially in the field of Health is still a lot of people who find it difficult or dissatisfied. The reason for the lack of hospitals or unreliable health services.

Health is defined as a basis for understanding health policy in particular in the field of Health. According to experts, a dynamic state between forms (anatomy) and use body (physiology) with the factors that influence it (Perkin, 1938). When combined Health and Health policies are the basis for a series of concepts, principles, basic provisions and decision. Local government action through establishing a determinant of the factors that influenced by issues on the quality of society.

Sector has three main characteristics, namely intangibility, heterogeneity, and inseparability. The various classifications include substantive and procedural policies, distributive, redistributive, and regulatory policies, material policies, public goods and private goods policies.

concept autonomy region based on Law 23 of 2014 in the field of Health on problems that occur in the field of Health, if a condition has cause dissatisfaction with most of the community. This means The problems that occur are increasing in dominant values and needs. Success in solving problems is minimal to achieve them. by that requires an understanding of the characteristics of the public, are subjective, need each other, artificiality, and dynamic. The formulation of the problem is described as follows:

Figure1/ Schematic/Table/making process

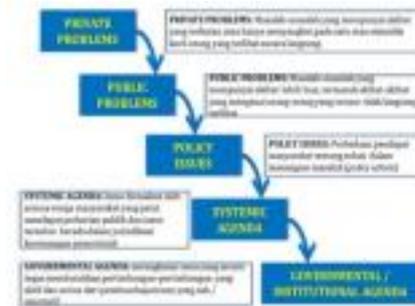

Based on the explanation above, the Health policy formulation process is a series of processes starting from the emergence of various issues in the community, so that it reaches the stage of policy making. Common problems are referred to by various names including:

1) Procedural and substantive problems are the tasks of local governments and substantive is a real result of activities carried out by humans for example: air pollution, poor nutrition and others.

2) Domestic and foreign problems 3) Distributive, regulative, and redistributive problems are the scope of part of the community and can be tackled one by one, for example: dengue fever outbreaks, regulatory regulations concerning regulations whose purpose is to limit certain actions.
